Easy Divorce

Reno, as the metropolis of the busy, developing state of Nevada, is destined commercially to be one of the important intermountain cities, but instead of substantial fame it now receives universal discredit as the city of easy divorces, says the San Francisco Call. Farces are written about Reno and about the train going there. A comic weekly gave a prize of $25 for the best name that could be substituted for Reno's present cognomen and awarded the bounty to the author of "The City of Otherly Love." The infamy that was once Chicago's and later Sioux Falls' is now Reno's.

Earnest, thoughtful citizens of Nevada want to purge the state and its largest city of the odium that has come with the "easy divorce" industry. Certain members of the legislature want to change the legal period of residence in the state from six months to one year, and there are plenty to fight them in the session next year.

Merchants who grow prosperous in the silk stocking trade and hotelmen who serve dainty dishes for the divorce colonists, as well as the army of "easy divorce" lawyers, will lobby in the legislature to perpetuate the disgrace of the state.

But the better type of Nevadans will fight against the perpetuation of a condition which makes Reno's name a coarse joke throughout the country, the last opportunity for divorce in haste of which the jaded spouses of the United States may avail themselves.

"Tired Of The Revenue"

Under the above heading the Pittsburg Dispatch says: "Nevada is assuming so improved a moral tone as to almost require a label to assure the spectator that she is the same state. It has been one of the accomplishments of the customary six months' trip to Reno for the winner of the divorce, as soon as the boon is granted, to rush up to Carson City with the new mate and contract a new marriage. Thus the mill of the divorce court at Reno pumped water on the wheel of the county clerk's office at Carson City and brought in real money all around."

"But moral progress will have its way. The authorities at Carson City announce that they will not issue licenses to marry to non-residents. This, in company with the reform at Reno of requiring a year's residence before divorce applications can be heard, is apt to very much diminish the charms of Nevada as a place to be off with the old mate and on with the new. It looks as if the people of that state were weary of that sort of romance. What state will be for it next? There always is a state to do that sort of business, though it generally tires the people before long."

Shylock Tactics

Merited discussion was to be heard from all quarters last evening and today with regard to the actions of certain San Francisco brokers who are charged with participating in "crossed" stock sales for the purpose of depressing the price of local issues. The discussion followed the appearance of the article in the Bonanza of last evening, and it was stated by many that the future of Tonopah stock quotations is what the coast brokers might make it, unless adverse action is taken by local brokers and traders.

That the article was true, was admitted by all and local brokers are free to admit that the recent depression in stocks was the work of a coterie of unscrupulous brokers who are dealing in one cent margins and never overlook an opportunity to shake down the contract buyers. The officials of the San Francisco stock exchange are well aware of the "crossed" sale practice, but it is doubtful if they will take any action to stop such work. Relief must be secured by action taken in Tonopah and it is high time that the hands of the so-called robber band were tied to prevent such future dealings.

Good Results Expected

With members of the commissions appointed by the republicans and democrats meeting today at Reno it is expected that some solution will be advanced wherein the state will receive a direct benefit. It will be the duty of the commission to devise ways and means for the reduction of the expenses of the state government and at the same time devise a plan to increase the revenue. The proposition is one that will prove difficult, but there is reason to believe the session will be more fruitful than an entire session of the state legislature, for the members participating in the discussions are familiar with the needs of the state.

While the commission has been termed non-partisan, it is composed of six republicans and six democrats. The majority of the members have the welfare of the state at heart and with this in mind it is expected that material results will be achieved.

PRaise THIS REMEDY FOR LUNG TROUBLE

If the voluntarily written words of grateful people, living in all parts of the country, praising Eckman's Alternative, a remedy for the treatment of coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles, are to be believed, this medicine is certainly doing a vast amount of good for such sufferers. We state none but facts and give to you the names and words of praise of those who declare it benefited them—in many cases coupled with the writers' statements that it restored them to health. This is a sample taken from many:

St. Mary's Academy, O'Neil, Neb. "Gentlemen: About seven years ago, I was attacked with the dreaded disease, Tuberculosis. I coughed incessantly, could not sleep nor eat, even could not speak and could do no work. I had three hemorrhages, raised blood most of the time and suffered with night sweats, fever and chills. A specialist of Columbus, Ohio, pronounced my case hopeless. "Nearly five years ago I heard of your Alternative and procured some at once, with the result that I soon found myself restored to health. For the past four years I have been able to continue my teaching and though I have always had heavy school work, I am also able to perform much manual labor. I consider your medicine, if faithfully taken, a most excellent remedy for consumption. Mother Superior permits this testimonial." (Signed) SISTER MARIE, Sister of St. Francis.

Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Trouble and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates, or habit-forming drugs. For sale by all druggists. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.
